Comments

“ They broke the mold when Josephine was born. There will never be another one like her.
We joked about the fact that "Jo" was standing in the middle of a field one day and they built the hospital around her. She worked and lived at PCH and referred to her house as "the dump on DeWitt". She volunteered as much time to that hospital as she got paid for.
She did those "little things" that no one else had time for, but now miss terribly. She took pictures but never wanted to be in the pictures. Great lady!!

“ When I started working at PCH I was still in High School, Josephine was my mentor. I remember having so much fun with her running the switchboard! She would always get stressed if we were so busy and afraid that we would not get finished by 11pm...I can hear her say "shudder...shudder" now! Rest in Peace Josephine - will miss you!
